

Why better Hamiltonian interpolation need not give better response

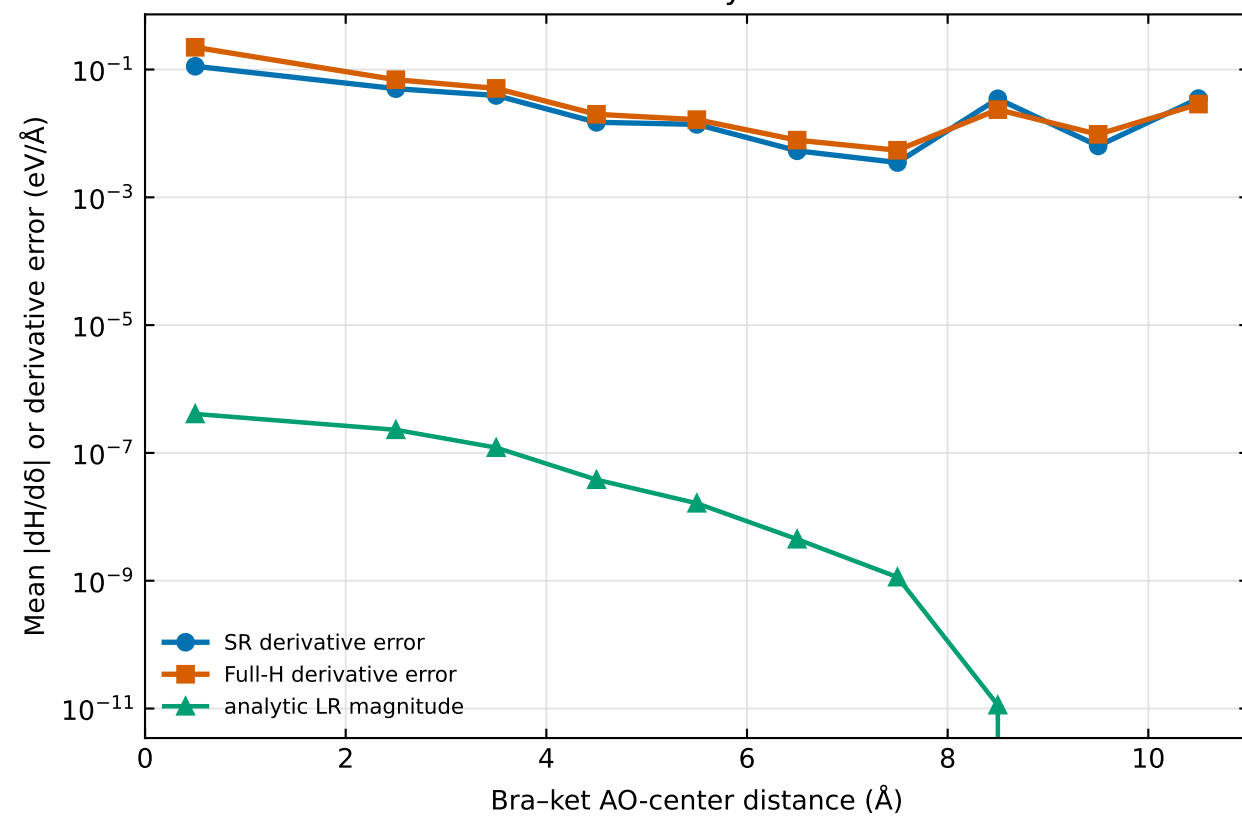

A. Gradient quality under tiny displacement

B. Where aggregate H error is gained/lost

C. Is the failure the analytic LR contribution?

D. Does Hamiltonian error predict EPC error?

